Special Notes:

Students will be given an introductory level knowledge of the four branches of Engineering; mechanical, electrical, computer, and civil. Students will work in groups to solve real-world problems and will design solutions while using Vex Kits, 3D printers, micro:bits, circuits, and other materials. Students will be introduced to the SCRUM method and learn to develop a solution to a problem while meeting criteria and constraints. This camp will give a taste of the Engineering program at Nolan, while teaching students basic skills used in the field.
